MARRIED

Mr. Haywood Brown a well known and popular young man of our town and Miss Leila Johnson, daughter of W. N. Johnson a sheep man living a few miles east of town left town Sunday morning and went to Plains Texas, where they were married. Both young people are well and favorably known here and sprung quite a surprise on their many friends here as no one knew their intentions until they returned and the report leaked out. The friends join their many friends in wishing them a long happy and prosperous life.

CANNING FACTORY RUNNING

The canning factory was started last Friday and continued to run all the fruit and tomatoes were put up that they had on hand.

Now the fact is known that the canning factory can and will run if the fruit is furnished, it is up to the doubting Thomases to furnish the track.

Rev. J. B. Cochran Presiding Elder of the Pecos Valley district will hold the forth Quarterly Conference at King next Saturday and Sunday. They will have an all day service Sunday, with dinner on the ground. Every one should hear Mr. Cochran for he is a noble man and a fine preacher.

Editor Lancaster, in his Plains News is advocating a daily mail through this country. This mail line is to come from Roswell via, Ranger Lake, Tatum, Scott, King, McDonald and Plainview and end at Lovington, we think this would be a great help to the Plains country to get a daily mail, and all the towns along the proposed route should get their petitions in circulation and see if this line could be established.

CROSBY ANCELL

Mr. Will Crosby formerly of this place but now of Elkins New Mexico, and Miss Claudie Ansell, went to Seminole Texas last Friday and were quietly married. Both of these young people have lived for several years here and were well known and enjoyed a host of friends with whom the Leader joins in wishing them a long prosperous and happy life.

Artesia Farmers to Buy Dairy Cows

From a lengthy article in the Artesia Advocate, it appears that the farmers of the Pecos Valley have at last solved the way to get rid of their surplus milk and other field products.

On Tuesday night of last week a very enthusiastic group of the business men and farmers of a few experienced dairymen of other sections met and discussed the dairy business. It seems that the proposition met with approval, every aide and will be carried out on a large scale very soon.

One Artesia Banker stated that he had $25,000.00 to loan, to buy dairy cattle for the country around Artesia. A representative of both the Roswell and Otis Creameries were present and offered the top of the market for all the cream they could deliver.

Now the proposition is changed to those people in the valley how does it appeal to us our neighbors? With our fine grass and shallow water & lands suitable that a farmer could raise a small patch of feed from a windmill and put it up in a silo and keep a few cows and the hogs and chickens which always go in connection with the dairy business, he could make a living much easier than just working his farm what the best compels him to and then proceed on job work for a living.

William Teas, who we have called attention to before is making good with his cows and cream separator and is a enthusiastic helper for dairying on the Plains.

You say we can't get it to market, that problem can be solved the easiest of any if the farmers will just get together and get the cream to send to market.
